"MR. BERGER"

"CAESAR"

Dear Gracy,
I have really enjoyed
being in your class. (Biol.)
We have had lots of fun and laughs. Thanks for helping make me a "Seabreeze"
etc."

Love ya!
Myra

To my dearest Gracy;

You have been my Inspiration to be a better boy. I care for you a lot and because I do, I try to have nicer manners, dress neater, wash behind my ears, so that I will be more presentable to ^{your} kind eyes, shining hair, radiant face, sparkling smile, and most of all you love your loving self. I am bad on words and wish I could say more but I can't say more than that you are wonderful and your spirit is the desire of my dreams

From the boy who loves you so much that he wants you to have the right kind of boyfriend and I do approve of Mike and I wouldn't break you up

Love now and Love always

Bobby

Dear Tracy,

You are one of the best friends a person could have.

I hope I can call you mine.

You've got looks, but your personality is what I really enjoy you for.

Love, Mary

since the beginning of time, music has played a significant role in the development of the world. as music is translated into many different meanings and stages, so this annual represents the varied experiences of sandcrabs in the course of their years at seabreeze high.

a great movement in music begins slowly, and builds in motion to its final climactic crescendo. in much the manner, our high school career is lived. beginning slowly, it builds up through the years to its peak—its highest point—graduation, the closing of the happy, harmonious days at seabreeze, and the beginning of the greater concerto to follow.

as we sit in our classrooms listening to the rhythmic pounding of the waves, we compare the music of the surf to the smashing crescendoes of a powerful orchestra. no seabreeze sandcrab would be complete without some reference to our world's most famous beach.

dedication

just as the finest orchestra could not play a concert without the direction of their maestro, so seabreeze needs mr. fred dean. the head of our instrumental music department, mr. dean immediately found a lasting place in the hearts of both the faculty and the student body. all those who come in contact with him are awed by his constant good humor, wonderful plans for the future of our "marching hundred", and great qualities of understanding and patience. mr. dean, throughout this year has directed the most marvelous football shows ever seen in this vicinity and compiled a superior record of achievement in the music department. we, on behalf of the student body, hereby dedicate this annual to mr. fred h. dean.

miss leota cordati-coburn lived music, loved music, and instilled this love in those around her. a 1916 graduate of seabreeze high school, she was "dean of music" in our hearts as well as on the faculty. under miss coburn's direction, the glee clubs were at the top in every contest and every performance. a perfectionist—from the senior processional to the annual christmas program—"teacher," (her favorite name) will long be remembered for her love of hibiscuses, her gay rendition of "up on the housetop", and the fond stories of her days as an opera star.

as a conductor leads an orchestra with a baton in his hand, so miss coburn led her life "with a song in my heart."

the annual staff

to create a masterpiece, time, patience, and the combined efforts of all concerned are essential. from the classic music masters to the modern jazz composer, this is true.

in this pattern, we, the fifty-eight sandcrab "staff" toiled to create our masterpiece. following our impresario, mr. yates, we worked in harmony, building up to the dynamic climax—the completion of this, our classic.

principal

mankind has always had areas of endeavor which brought together individuals of all sorts and stations. music is such an area. the march of the band, the blending of glee club voices, the song of the soloist—all of these convey a universal message that sweeps aside pride and prejudice and unites us all in the harmony of fine achievement.

mrs. florence kraeuter—girls

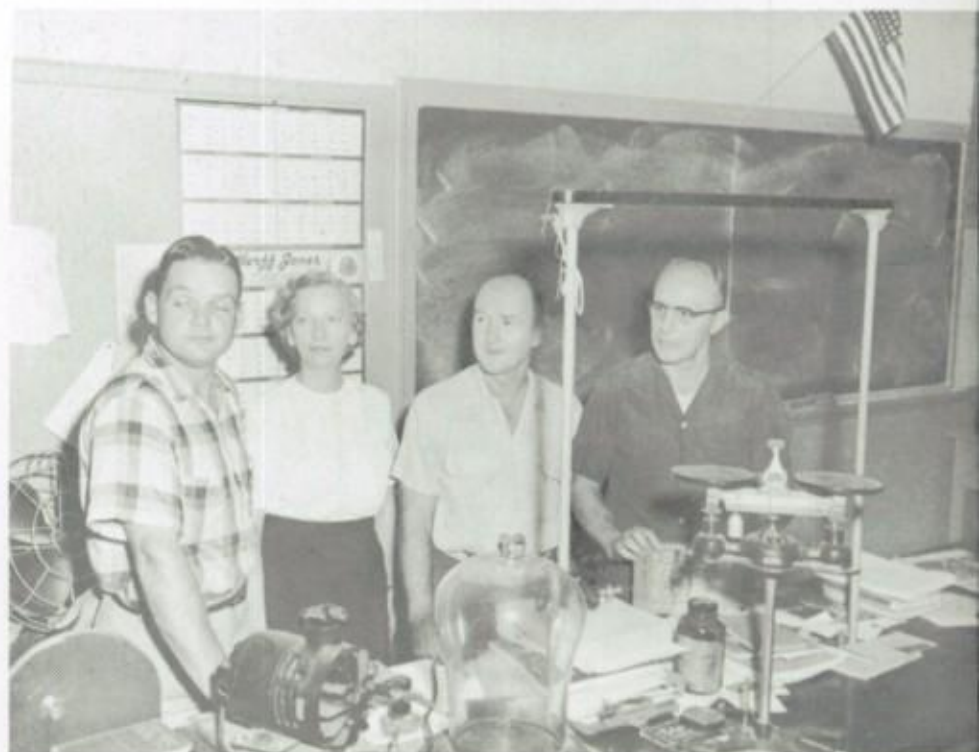

it is a seabreeze tradition to try to help each student work toward his best potentialities. the rapid growth of the school has threatened that tradition but we are meeting it by establishing the positions of dean of boys and dean of girls. as every musician stumbles over notes and needs the direction of a conductor, students stumble during the trying task of growing up and need guidance. our deans stand ready to assist every student in his personal and social development and in analyzing his abilities, aptitudes and interests so that he may obtain the most from school life.

our teachers are also "guidance conscious" and spend much time and effort working with our boys and girls in trying to stimulate and encourage them to obtain a good basic education while they are still in high school.

a harmonious relationship between school and community has been the aim of this year's parent-teacher association. with its "let's get acquainted" theme, its frequent social meetings and many educational projects, p.t.a. members have made "beautiful music together!" as the melody blends with the harmony, so the teachers blend with the parents.

e. c. winans, head custodian; willie moore, lawrence moore.

a broadway production has many facets, one of which is the "back-stage" people. our stagehands, who are behind every "show", are indispensable to the seabreeze scene.

mrs. betty bond, pat luther.

keeping us as fit as a fiddle is our school nurse. her performance is reflected in the well-being of each and every sandcrab.

mrs. francis smith

mrs. francis smith stepped into the role of s.g.a. sponsor for the first time this year. when interviewed, she expressed the following opinion.

"my work as sponsor of the s.g.a. has been greatly simplified because of the capable leaders and fine cooperation within the organization. i feel this group always has been a representative of the entire student body and we have every reason to believe that it will continue to be."

student government association

a band or orchestra needs a capable conductor to lead and direct it. our student body likewise needs a strong leader to guide it over the rough spots and to offer help in all problems, big and little, which arise in an active school such as ours.

the seabreeze student government association, under the fine direction of mrs. francis smith, maintains this high quality of leadership. the s.g.a. has maintained a tone of great beauty in our school and has kept the complex technique running as clockwork.

each semester a president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer are chosen. a boy and girl from each grade act as representatives in this governing body.

in the court, a judge, elected by the students, and his appointed personnel handle student trials. student police are selected by the senate to keep order throughout the school. the welcome and guidance association acquaints new students with the school system.

our s.g.a. is truly a working example of a strong and democratic leadership.

whether sparkling stories of a spectacular season or a one night stand is the tale told by a broadway musical, the talent and spirit that the individual members of the cast exercise is what is remembered when the musical is brought to mind.

in this way, we will remember our varsity lettermen for years to come. as sportsmen who played to the best of their ability to honor our school they showed that a "good team" doesn't mean glory, championships, awards, or post-season games. it means honesty, hard work, and loyalty to school and fellow students.

this year our team filled our hearts with strong pride—a team trying its best to do a good job. co-captains—rodney and richard—led it to a homecoming not to be forgotten.

varsity basketball

the guiding notes of our basketball teams are coach nelson and coach byrom. mr. joe nelson, coaching the varsity crabs, has proved his ability and knowledge of basketball by his superb past records and fine guidance. mr. nelson has always had a keen interest in the game. as a student, he played on both high school and college teams. since coming to seabreeze in 1949 his teams have won 6 group tournaments and 2 state tournaments.

mr. bill byrom, "b" squad coach, has shown his top-notch basketball ability, though only in his second year as coach. once a sandcrab letterman and member of the all-state team, "jungle bill" went on to stetson university and the marines before returning to his high school alma mater as a teacher and coach.

our managers, jay and rex, are also an important element of our basketball teams. washing the towels and uniforms, keeping the scorebook at the games, and doing errands for the coaches, are but a few of the duties that the managers are responsible for. without them, a basketball team would suffer greatly.

every good musical organization is the result of years of practice and building. likewise our varsity basketball team requires the training in its earlier years provided by the b squad. a boy who plays on this team is to be highly admired for he is helping to construct a top varsity of the future. the greatest moment for a b squad player, is the moment when he steps from this building block to play with the varsity team.

under the coaching of "jungle bill" byrom our b squad has proved its ability to build, continually, the best varsity basketball teams in the state.

continuing success such as that enjoyed by the new york yankees in baseball, notre dame in foot- ball, calumet farms in horseracing and kentucky in basketball requires a constant flow of gifted talent to replace lost talent. that is exactly how it goes with the seabreeze sandcrabs. in florida high school circles, no team has enjoyed more consistent success during the past generation than have our crabs. their success has been based on a constant feeding of experienced, well-coached talent to the varsity squad by a well supervised junior high program. this junior high team, coached by ira foster, has been the heart of seabreeze's strength. in coach foster's years of bossing the junior crabs, they have racked up 157 victories and only two losses. this year a seventh grade intermural league was developed due to the fact that now the seventh grade prospects are scattered in various elementary schools throughout the peninsula. while foster crossed his fingers for the seventh graders, his eighth graders were competing in the new volusia county junior high league. these teams doing very well, coach foster was very proud of his future varsity basketeters.

king & queen

heralding homecoming was the election of our king and queen, sisco deen and courtney clarke. reigning with them in our court of royalty were sponsors, al hewitt—judy malik, ralph howard (a flu bug victim)—becky augustine, bo dunn—donna dunlop and condit dibble—patty lucey. with pastel chrysanthemum bouquets, they were additional beauty in our gigantic parade where sigma tau, sophomore class, and chi delta won the float prizes and the latin club and thespians were judged the winners in the decorative car competition.

a football victory? the homecoming atmosphere made it possible, and then—the s.g.a. sponsored dance. homecoming '57 with its floats, alumni, and chrysanthemums was the dazzling highlight of our fall activity scene.

all music depicts some form of emotion, and likewise does dramas. the thespians are a group of dramatic-minded individuals, who throughout the year devoted their time and talents to learning of the great world of the theatre. putting on dramatic skits, helping with the class plays, and generally learning about the dramatic arts, this club under the direction of miss lillian trawick, and leadership of its president, carolyn, enjoyed a profitable and happy year.

1st row—barbara wartman, secretary; dianne noone, treasurer; valerie tucker, vice-president; 2nd row—miss trawick, sponsor; carolyn law, president.

abe lincoln came to life on the seabreeze stage this year, when the senior class presented its version of "abe lincoln in illinois". this was the first time this play was performed by a non-professional group and the cast, under the direction of miss lillian trawick, gave a creditable performance.

the play was truly "spectacular" in every sense of the word. costuming, props, and background effects gave the entire production a professional look. with bo dunn, coley drohomer, and al hewitt, leading the large cast of characters, the atmosphere of the pre-civil war days was realistically brought to the sandcrab auditorium.

all dogpatch was there! sandcrabs dressed in typical comic strip attire attended this annual function sponsored by the junior class. this perfect conclusion to our thanksgiving revels was enhanced by the presence of kissin' rock, a tomato-throwing booth, enough cider for all, and many familiar dogpatchers. being kept extremely busy was marryin' sam, due to the fact that all the girls were determined to "marry" their fella now that they had him hooked. even li'l abner agreed that this year's dance was a whoppin' big success.

you may read music and you may read about music, but to understand it fully, you must play the composition. in this manner students of the diversified cooperative training program "work to understand work". rodger led the way, mr. freeman co-ordinated, and d.c.t.'ers followed as another year of achievement was scored by this new branch of s.h.s.

following the tune, "look to tomorrow", the future homemakers of america prepare for the approaching day when they will be homemakers. tuning in to all s.h.s. activities while learning of the home, creates a busy time for all f.h.a.'ers.

"music hath its charm" and so did the thirteen lovely lasses who vied for the coveted title, miss seabreeze. displaying their charm in evening gowns and then returning with an act for the talent division, each contestant captivated the hearts of the student audience. besides having the largest number of entries in the history of the event, there was the highlight of having present two previous winners, miss courtney clarke and miss judy malik. much anxiety preceded the announcing of the winner and her court at the coronation ball. only in the presence of such beauty are you again assured "a pretty girl is like a melody".

the sub debs, under the sponsorship of the peninsula club and the capable leadership of judy kemp, made this one of their greatest years. putting a float and car in homecoming, sponsoring the annual miss seabreeze contest, and highly successful holly hop are some of its many projects. looking back on a year full of wonderful memories is one of a sub debber's most treasured possessions.

old songs are considered by many people to be "classics" because they return over and over again to popularity. latin, too may be called a "classic" as it is the language from which many others are derived.

the latin club, in appreciation of the mother language, tries to further their knowledge through many and varied activities during the course of the school year.

spanish club

the dancing, lilting melodies of the spanish songs are well-loved by all, especially members of the spanish honor society. these members, who must maintain an average of 90 and a 2 in citizenship, further their knowledge of the romantic language through their many cultural activities, under the guidance of their president, sandy bohannon.

1st row—sandra steadman, treasurer; gloria seltzer, chaplain-sgt.-at-arms; bea beck, secretary; 2nd row—sandra bohannon, president; joyce fisher, vice-president.

polly montague, jo smithers, patty lucey, leslie kirkland, carolyn law, mary atkinson, melrose vipperman, sandra stedman, joyce fisher, sandy bohannon, gloria seltzer, mrs. shepard, pat gorman, dianne rose, barbara sanctuary, margo henry, dianne noone, cole drohomer, barbara carpenter, philip stockhausen, doug forsvthe *ed curry, walter dobbins.

national honor society

the highest "pitch" which crabs can reach is the national honor society. because of its high standards of character and leadership, in addition to a scholarship of 90 in grades and citizenship, membership in this organization is a goal which every student wishes to attain. for all members, the candlelight induction, and for seniors, a gold tassel at graduation, are among their most treasured high school memories. president alexis led this group in another year of achievement.

jr. - sr. prom

tonight is the night—a new formal awaits my beck and call to transform me into a princess as i ride off in a shower of stardust to the prom.

upon entering the door of the ballroom, my escort has a special look in his eye—a feeling of certain satisfaction from putting on his tux and stiff shirt.

the ballroom is mardi gras, lights from a mirrored centerpiece, and balloons of brilliant colors float gaily overhead. the spirit of the carnival is in the air, and couples glide around the room as though attached to stars and fluffy clouds.

we depart to many breakfasts given by classmates. tomorrow will find us at the springs, sunburned and not regretting it, for this is our high school prom and will long be remembered.

our foreign students

leo and bob libbey—tripoli, north africa; willis delano—north hamptonshire, england; deita zengel—lima, peru; laurie ann delano—north hamptonshire, england.

from "around the world" come students to shs. england, libya, peru were their homes, but now they claim to be native sandcrabs. tuning right in, they wasted no time in joining the hum of activities.

deita couldn't wait to see her first football game; leo and bob were amazed at the size of the school compared to the ones in tripoli; laurie ann and willis were happy to come only a few blocks to school instead of twenty miles. welcome ya'll, you are welcome additions to our student body.

Dear Tracy -
 We have always had fun together. We since we've known each other this year was an exception. We had a regular "blast". Good luck in cheering and I feel sure you'll make it again. This year. I won't forget your party. Yoh but it was fun. It was a great one. If you take Spanish next year and we all go to Mexico Va-Va-Voom!! What a time we'll have. all of us loose in Mexico. Well here's hoping you have luck in everything you do.
 I hope we have a lot
 of classes together
 next year. Keep your good looks
 and great personality over the summer &
 come back ready
 to roll the goods!
 times when
 we're Juniors.
 your friend
 (I hope for life)

sophomores!

1st row—betsy henriksen, secretary-treasurer; gary underwood, president; luanne macy, vice-president;

sophomores are through with their scales and ready to make real music. now they may join the service and social clubs, take part in varsity sports and attend senior high activities. their "beat" is faster, surer, part of the music of the school.

*all I want
is a sweet
girl who is a little naughty, lots
of fun, and
is in everything you do.
I want you
to be lucky.
Love
Dodie*

*Don't forget
me, I've got a lot of love
to give you.
We'll be together
forever.

dress-rite

a new and different note was added to seabreeze this year, to the tune of a "dress-rite program". this program, inaugurated by the faculty, upholds the idea that the students of seabreeze high would look, feel, and act more like young men and women if they dressed accordingly.

under the new plan, boys were asked not to wear tight dungarees and to always wear a belt.

girls were asked not to wear any slacks at all to school and to avoid wearing unusually tight skirts and sweaters.

the main point brought out by the "dress-rite program" is to always dress appropriately for the occasion.

the program proved highly successful, and seabreeze is now noted as being one of the best-dressed schools in the state.

1st row—mr. rivenbark, miss douglas, mr. berger; 2nd row—mary hunt, treasurer; charlie oates, president; costa magoulas, vice-president; judy mccracken, secretary.

having experienced a year of senior high, juniors are ready to step out on the concert stage and make their debut. no composition is too large for them to undertake. they eagerly look forward to their days ahead as full fledged musicians.

speaks for democracy

george stoyanov

"where, oh where, but in america"

this was the highlight of the speech george stoyanov gave to the spellbound audience in the s.h.s auditorium as they listened to the "i speak for democracy" contest. george won the contest in our school and then headed for higher echelons in the city and district. these, he also won, and from reading this short precis you will undersand the depth, feeling, and sincerity with which the speech was written.

george stoyanov was born in white church, yugoslavia and came to america in 1950 where his family first resided in new jersey before coming to florida.

as prizes, george received a plaque for the school winner, a gold key as the district winner, and a watch from the daytona beach jaycees. each of the ten seabreeze finalists received certificates.

Dear Sally,

Well I can't say I'm sorry I'm leaving because what I want isn't at C. Breeze. It's twenty miles away. I hope that you find the fulfillment to your hopes and dreams and will be as happy as I hope to be.

You are a girl I truly admire and greatly respect. I hope that you as a senior will receive more privileges than we did but I doubt it.

We really had fun in the Club didn't we. I'll never forget the chewing gum incident and all of our other raunchy times. Of course, how could we forget Mr. Dunlop and his penetratable rule book. - Oh well, who believes in surprises. I believe in being prepared.

I really enjoyed being your friend.

this year and I'll tell you why I like you - it's because you face up to life for what it is and you are one of the few sophomores that act their age.

The only reason I regret leaving is because of my friends but I'll be close and will be coming to see some of the football games and of course my brother in B.B.

Oh how could we forget the Keyette v.s. Fri-hi-y basketball game. I really didn't think we would win but no regrets huh? - I better see you checking out there next year at the games -

I really hope you get through 2. reglers class. I know she's rough. I had her also and screamed for joy when I finished my exam and passed right there in the hall - she had an egg!

Tracy, you're really a neat kid and I hope that when I drop around to fragarize the school a little you'll speak to me and maybe we can even get together and do something.

seniors

I really wish you all the best of everything, which isn't much at C'beige but it's something.

Love ya,
 Marge

P.S.
 There was a guy named Frank who everybody said stank.
 He said "I smell like shit. I must admit.
 But all my Hawaiian shirts I bought."

to watch a symphony orchestra is to watch co-ordination and grace in action. a musician begins in the last chair of his section and through perseverance and improvement may work his way to the first chair position.

our seniors, class of '58, followed president bob in a style depicting co-ordination and grace. beginning as freshmen, we, through hard work and study, made our way to the senior position. now we must begin again. the "score" is life; our goal is becoming concertmasters and conductors.

these senior superlatives were chosen by their contemporaries as the outstanding members of the class of '58, an honor they richly deserve. through their actions they have exemplified the high ideals of this class as shown by its motto, "backward never, forward ever". the titles which have been bestowed on them represent traits considered to be the most rewarding and beneficial that high school graduates may possess. when we look back on the class of '58, these will be the people we will remember. when outstanding contributions to society are made by our classmates, these are the ones who will make them.

"super seniors" of nineteen fifty-eight, we salute you!

most versatile

versatile—meaning having many talents—you can tell our patty and bob's versatility by the many and varied extra-curricular activities in which they lend a hand.

bob underwood
patty lucey

best looking

judy and al did more than look their best day after day; they added beauty to seabreeze. "smile at the world, and it will smile back at you."

al hewitt
judy malik

most popular

in their many activities, throughout the year, courtney and bo were "the people's choice". in all they did, in every way, they were the favorites of the class of '58.

bo dunn
courtney clarke

most intellectual intellect is higher mental ability, including reasoning, judgment, and comprehension. truly, carolyn and walter are the embodiment of these qualities.

walter dobbins
carolyn law

most athletic

with their many athletic awards in a variety of sports, betty and rodney deserve their title "sports heroes". we salute you at the top of the sports ladder.

betty rice
rodney nance

friendliest

coley's sunny smile and bright "hello" to one and all sets a bright tune to the dulllest day.

a constant feeling of good will towards his fellowmen is one of bob's finest and most admired qualities.

coley drohomer

wittiest

always ready with a smile and a cute remark are joyce and mike. their motto must be, "when you're smiling, the whole world smiles with you".

mike mower

class prophecy

this is "in years to be"
we look around and what do we see?
the class of '58 where'er we go, producing, directing, and stealing the show.
in daytona beach, ye olde stomping ground,
all our classmates are to be found.
they've made their niches, great and small,
each has his station, one and all.
at peabody auditorium, they're gathered tonight,
all shining in splendor, what a glorious sight!
the strains of our alma mater ring loud and clear, memories return of our high school career.
first we spot tom macdonald and leo hayes, parking lot magnates, they are these days.
our modern car is parked with no toil,
these super contraptions don't even use oil.
among the socialities on the scene,
are bob burnette and becky augustine.
there, too, is albert hewitt, playboy, supreme, we always knew it.
at his side, a lovely maiden, courtney clarke, with diamonds laden.
handling the business in the office we see, roberta rader, carol guthrie, sheila donavin and nancy ross,
all are checking profit and loss.
at the switchboard, among them all,
the telephone gal, ruth ann wall.
the lobby decor, so attractively shown,
done by mary gillespie, designer well-known.
the murals and pictures, admired by all,
by artist, pat gorman, adorn the wall.
the building's design couldn't be greater,
engineered by jack bechtol, jim freeman, steve slater, ronald johnson, too, was a creator,
of this, the world's greatest theatre.
crashing crescendos of the overture,
by gail johnson, composer demure, played by seabreeze trained musician roland bell, first chair position.
follows the baton of leaders unseen, directors don albert and sisco deen.
a quieter movement gives us a chance, around the hall to take a glance.
there is mike weaver, drugstore tycoon, whose very presence brightens the room.
seated beside him in a stunning gown, sports car fan, carolyn brown.
there is souseley, kitty lou,
and billie yelvington, they are teachers, two.
radiant housewives, pat bailey, pat nunnery, kay ford in the audience this evening, look far from bored.
aeronautical engineers, pete stevenson, dick stroud, flew in from a distant cloud,
they designed their own airship, what a marvelous sight, they'll cruise to mars on their next flight.
their able pilot, jeffrey hurst, to conquer space, he'll be the first.

the hostess, dressed so trim and neat, coley drohomer made the trip a treat.
with them, too, was sandra shaw,
her savoir-faire was viewed with awe.
nurses jo smithers and bea beck, kept things ship-shape on the flight deck.
to avert a drastic midair panic,
the plane is serviced by ron richards, mechanic.
they've all come to see this show,
of so many people they used to know.
the program now is about to begin,
the audience is hushed, the lights are dim.
an operatic aria, so sweet and serene,
by soprano, bonnie reid, sets the scene.
to be the top recording artist of the day melrose vipperman has made her way.
alexis demas, margo henry, actresses of fame, academy award winners, everyone knows their name.
applause is heard from every sector,
led by john haigh, funeral director.
enthusiasm comes from fred beck, tom king,
who are in business with skipper ring.
department store buyers in a distant harbor,
are alice gregg and linda barbour.
the modern stage lighting, clever, new-born,
run by electrician, walter horn.
harmonizes well with setting and scene, by barbara carpenter, designer in green.
dennis maskrey, flora expert ideal,
has plants on the stage with much appeal.
what is that noise deafening our ears?
the international convention of engineers.
ralph howard, roger griswold, bob hartley, are the membership, only partly.
bill krons, condit dibble, mike alexander,
from across the world they did meander.
gene nagy, jack houseley, and ray simm, engineer things at the slightest whim.
kenny lovet and frank wolff, naval officers, great,
on the land and on the sea, sail around the states.
scientists who work in search of the missing clue, steve xynidis, carolyn law, walter dobbins, too,
make reports, neat and concise,
to send to our wac, betty rice.
to the stage once more our attention swerves,
where dale elliott skates in patterns and curves.
the public relations, which was quite a chore,
done by judy ossinsky and gayle ann devore,
combined so nicely with posters and art,
by window designer, carol bogart.
at intermission, we gather the news,
from our policewoman, betty hughes.
here is lawyer, david beadles, whom does he rely on?
his efficient secretary, pert elayne dion.
and there is everett chandler, minister divine, who's doing a great service for all of man kind.
here are people fulfilling their dream,
are medical experts of high esteem.
gordon robertson, john humphreys, gloria seltzer, too, sandra bohannon, and joyce fisher at this rendezvous.

louise lyon, patty lucey, and barbara berry, came by plane courtesy, bill perry.
discussing higher finance, bonds and stocks,
are secretaries pat mixon and janet mattocks.
who is in the next group we stop?
judy malik and donna dunlop.
secretaries they, with ink and pen, work alongside helen olsen.
on the golfing scene these days, stories of joe ragan ring with praise.
mickey westberry in halls of fame,
through baseball has made his name.
to coaches george tyler and rodney nance,
we give congratulations at every chance.
dashing hither and yon, in such a hurry,
is business leader, theodore curry.
virginia mcmahon, his wonderful secretary, handles affairs, legal and monetary.
don maxwell, catching criminals near and far,
has an average way above par.
robert grunder tells fires to cease and desist,
he has all arsonists down on his list.
now is the time to return to the show.
we put out our cigarettes and inside we go.
glancing around, there are to be found,
people we missed on our first go-round.
whom do we see on our second survey, jerry crosthwait, paul lincoln, and william conway, doug baldwin is with them, too, businessmen all, just and true.
syd abbe, paratrooper, and wac andrea modave, are doing their part, our country, to save.
landing their plane without swoop or pitch, are pilots doug ecklund and henry goodrich.
helping to perfect their wonderful landing, judy kemp, lynda roberts, hostesses outstanding.
the lovely models, all the gentlemen are chasin' anita fithian, marilyn maskrey, and malinda haisten.
arlene bandel, sally frost, marjorie combs,
are inviting people to see their new homes.
mary atkinson and michael mower,
hold government positions of great power.
two people who always do things well, teachers nancy mahaffey and peggy bell.
watching the horses down at the paddocks, is wealthy sportsman, david maddox.
bob underwood and clinton dunn,
as u. s. ambassadors keep on the run.
patty smith and tommy lee,
work in the pentagon for our country.
freeman and wagner, patricias are they,
serve overseas for the u. s. a.
returning tonight to see all our class, has brought back glimpses of the past.
to the future now we look,
our life is still an unfinished book.
"backward never, forward ever",
to reach the top, we all endeavor.
this is the prophecy of '58 will not our class be truly great!

last will and testament

we, the senior class of seabreeze high school, residents of volusia county, florida, being of sound (?) mind, do make, publish, and proclaim this to be our last will and testament.

we hereby direct that our executor, hereinafternamed, shall pay all of our debts including but not limited to unpaid library fines, cafeteria charges, parking fines, speeding fines, and sandcrab installments—all of which have created so much confusion and consternation to our companion and the taxpayers' friend—"irene, goodnight!"

to someone with nothing to do on wednesday nights, i, syd abbe, leave my marksmanship at the gun club meetings.

i, don albert, leave to costa magoulas, the care and feeding of the trumpet section.

i, mike alexander, do hereby bequeath all my empty liquid refreshment containers to anyone foolish enough to refill them.

to al bushman, i, mary atkinson, leave my blank mind with no mathematic ability.

i, becky augustine, leave to tony melachrino my grounded witch's broom so he'll always have a way to school.

i, pat bailey, leave all my wonderful memories of glee club to jane atkinson.

i, doug baldwin, give the junior class my ability to gamble in fabulous las vegas and get away with it.

i, arlene bandel, leave my single life behind—in care of marlene abrams.

to judy brown, i, linda barbour, leave my ability to draw.

i, dave beables, leave my unsurpassed vocabulary containing all of noah webster's dictionary to any poor soul taking english IV.

to beverly lee, i, jack bechtol, leave my fabulous collection of band medals i spent six years in acquiring.

i, bea beck, leave to the "marching hundred" a man who may shout at you but will always work for you . . . mr. fred dean.

to bill jennings, i, fred beck, leave all the gum under my english IV desk.

i, peggy bell, leave my seat in mrs. kemp's english class to carol leggett.

i, roland bell, being of sound mind, do hereby leave bruce brady the privilege of paying for our lost band music.

i, carol bogart, leave to tracy cobb the job of glee club robe captain and the right to enter the boy's robe room, while the boys are there.

i, sandra bohannon, leave to anyone with $5 my corrected spanish III papers.

to judy merkle, i, carolyn brown, leave my frizzie hair.

i, bob burnette, leave my physics workbook (with all the wrong answers) to any junior who will take it.

we, pat gorman and barbara carpenter, bequeath mr. yates and his doctrine of tyranny "yatesism" to whosoever thinks he can cope with it.

i, barbara berry, . . . leave, i hope.

i, roger griswold, leave to any quick thinkers my ability to use car trouble as an excuse for all tardys and absences.

last will and testament—continued to pete rogers, i, george tyler, leave my thirty point average.

to bob brown, i, everett chandler, leave my ability to run . . .

i, courtney clarke, leave my big flat feet to the majorette squad for use during parades.

to rip voorhees, i, bill conway, leave my ability to be small and also the blue and white paint on my car.

i, jerry crosthwait, leave my ability to yell at a basketball game, to anyone whom mrs. kemp threatens to seat with if he doesn't.

i, ted curry, leave my motorcycle to any future marlon brandos.

i, sisco deen, leave the band, glee club, and mainland.

to ellen taylor, i, alexis demas, leave my ability to run around in circles and almost always be absent from class.

i, gayle anne devore, will billy lea's telephone number to my sister, dottie, in hopes she'll follow in my footsteps.

my ability to get along with coach nelson, i, condit dibble, will to bill isenberg.

i, walter dobbins, leave the chemistry lab in a hurry before my brother, pat dobbins, blows up the school.

i, sheila donavin, leave my unpleasant memories of the "mud puddle" to kitten nelson and beth merrill.

i, marjorie combs, leave to the coming seniors that great privilege of eating in the school cafeteria.

to future "first ladies", i, coley drohomer, leave my role as mary todd lincoln.

to fay fogg, i, donna dunlop, leave our good times at gainesville.

to pete rogers, i, bo dunn, leave our great memories of the neat times we had at smed's.

i, doug ecklund, hereby bequeath my best . . . no, on second thought i think i'll take it with me.

i, dale elliot, leave . . . for atlanta, and will my skate bearings to anyone who will have them.

i, joyce fisher, leave all my possessions to my sister, little lin. this includes my ability to stand "yatesism" (and love every minute of it).

i, anita fithian, will to liz manus, one box of black hair rinse.

to my sister, pat keeser, i, kay ford, leave everything except my husband.

i, jim freeman, hereby leave to tom freeman my ability to get along with the teachers.

i, pat freeman, leave the memories of home ec. class to pat crosby.

i, sally frost, leave my ability to be engaged all through my senior year to suzanne niles.

to valerie tucker and anne spencer, i, mary gillespie, hereby bequeath my ability to bring forth an occasional chuckle from the black-hearted mr. yates.

i, henry goodrich, leave to stan alexander, my parties, stag and otherwise.

i, alice gregg, leave to gwen west all my clothes that seem to have "shrunk" and i take with me our "big brother".

to sandra stedman, i, carol gutherie, will my old notebook so she can file tardy and absent slips.

i, john haigh, leave my signature on the rest room wall.

to all southern belles, i, malinda haisten, leave my shorthand with a southern accent.

i, margo henry, leave to brenda watson, my ability to walk around town with nothing on but a box.

i, bob hartley, leave to pete ripley, my office of treasurer in the spud club.

i, al hewitt, leave to judy greaves, the wish that she could come with me.
to a junior who is always on time, i, walter horn, will my pink tardy slips.
i, jack housley, leave to some unfortunate trumpet player, the opportunity of getting to school in time to play for the flag raising every morning.
i, ralph howard, leave to o. g. chapman and jon adkins, all our leftover statues and hubcaps.
i, betty hughes, will to karen gray the advice that cutting school doesn't pay.
i, john humphreys, leave my chewing gum wrappers in room 14 to future physicists.
i, jeff hurst, leave to jim daugherty, the responsibility of seeing that all cute babes have dates for the weekend.
to anyone hearty enough to stand the bellows, roars, and corny jokes of mr. dean, i, gail johnson, will my solo clarinet seat.
to david kroll, i, ron johnson, leave any of my size that can help him.
to next year's holly hop queen, i, judy kemp, leave my crown.
i, tom king, leaves my shortness to mike schultz.
to allyn leveille, i, bill kronz, do leave 12" of my height.
i, carolyn law, do solemnly will my golden curls and irish temper to my sister, judy.
i, tom lee, leave my brains (?) to all my math teachers so they may determine the cause of my trouble.
to ron and skip, i, paul lincoln, leave eight drops of gasoline.
i, kenny lovet, leave my ability to trade old athletic socks for new ones to pete rogers.
i, patty lucey, leave good ole seabreeze and wish i could take tommy with me.
to an unsuspecting junior, i, louise lyon, leave the minutes book of the senior class.
i, ginny mcmahon, will to betty henriksen, my red hair.
i, dave maddox, leave my silent, masculine personality.
to holly daw, i, nancy mahaffy, leave my old riding boots.
i, judy malik, leave my worn out cheerleading shoes to cc. thranhardt.
i, marilyn maskrey, leave my "two mongrels" to gerry leonhardt and jud cochrane.
i, janet mattocks, being of sound mind (?) leave seabreeze high school.
to mike dugger, i, don maxwell, leave my tampa flutaphone.
i, pat mixon, will my seat in dct to my sister, betty.
to eddie calcott, i, mike mower, leave my ability to stay with macbeth.
i, marolyn murphy, leave to my brother bill, the ability to graduate.
to ted harvey and gordon lange, i, eugene nagy, will my mechanical knowledge.
i, rod nance, leave my overworked football insurance to willie lager.
i, pat monahan nunnery, leave the privilege of being a married senior to lenora mitchell.
to carol sacks, i, helen olsen, leave the ability to always be too short.
i, judy ossinsky, will to some one who "thinks" they like reporting, the wonderful chore of covering the gossip of s.h.s. (sucker!)

last will and testament—continued

i, bill perry, leave to any up and coming loafer my ability to do nothing and always get caught.
to all d.c.t. students to come, i, roberta rader, leave one broken sandcrab for use at homecoming.
in a cloud of dust, i, joe ragan, leave.

i, bonnie reid, leave to betty joyner, my broken bassoon reeds, solo chair, and our times in dean's haven sixth period.

i, betty rice, do solemnly leave to margaret long all my chewed up, bitten, lipsticked clarinet reeds.

i, ronnie richards, leave my old, used tires to the poor soul who wants them. (car tires, that is.) to the 1959 d.c.t. class, i, skipper ring, leave mr. freeman.

i, gordon robertson, leave my ability to unfix things permanently.

i, lynda roberts, leave my hair to anyone with enough money to stock up on dye.

i, nancy ross, will to anyone stupid enough to accept, my treasurership in three organizations.

to all members of the swimming team who will take spanish III, i, gloria seltzer, leave my corrected papers.

i, sandy shaw, do hereby will and bequeath all my facetious, sarcastic, cynical, and pessimistic remarks and observations to all who can use them.

i, ray simm, leave my three years of math with mr. true.

to danny allen, i, steve slater, leave my charge account at the junk yard.

i, pat smith, leave my s.p. badge to sharon powell.

to anyone who is very foolish to accept it, i, jo smithers, leave my job as gym assistant.

i, kitty lou sousely, leave my ability to shred at least two saxophone reeds a week to suzie inskeep i, pete stevenson, leave my memories of seabreeze and commander "t".

i, dick stroud, to the amazement of my teachers, leave.

to my brother, gary, i, bob underwood, leave the keys to my ford and the gas station bills.

i, melrose vipperman, leave costa magoulas in the hands of mrs. shepard . . . only.

i, pat wagner, leave all the memories of the miami trip to mr. freeman (uncle herbie).

so that i may fulfill a promise by january, 1959, i, ruth ann wall, leave school in 1958.

i, paul wendell, leave to valerie tucker the spider that has taken residence in my english IV seat.

to future pro-baseball stars, i, mickey westberry, leave my "ancient" baseball glove.

i, mike weaver, will my glee club seat to anyone who can warble.

i, harry wild, leave to all theatrical stars, my goatee and miss trawick.

to danny allen, i, frank wolff, leave the privilege of nominating new members into the spud club.

i, marie wolff, leave my shorthand pads to ronnie whirlow.

i, steve xynidis, hereby leave to tony melachrino, my football equipment . . . if its fits.

to gloria white, i, billie yelvington, leave the eighth grade phys. ed. class and sincere condolences.

in witness, whereof, we, the undersigned at the testators' request and in their presence, and in the presence of each other, hereunto affix our hand and seal.

Dear Tracy —

First, and most important of all to me, I love you very much. (U.U. I hope.) I've noticed and found in you a certain little something which I can describe but which I can say is yours alone that is to say I don't think there is anyone like you anywhere.

In other words: you are the sweetest, prettiest, nicest, and most whole some person I've ever known. It makes me feel good all over to be around you. I think of you all the time and wish I could be with you more, but seeing how things are — well, you know.

I figure maybe if I sorta stay around you some of that sweetness might rub off + make me better. I wish I knew how to really be the kind of boy you like. I'd like to be able to say "you're my girl". No snow either, I mean it.

How bout that — — — 16 years old. you're getting to be an old lady. Maybe I can start helping you across the street. I'm happy for you that you got a car, 'cause you can really do just about what you want now. It gives you a good feeling to be a little independent. — — — Also, I hope you enjoy ~~your~~ your lunch, + I hope you like it. I thought you might.

Guess what? I'm letting my fingernails grow just for you. It's like this, if you have an inspiration you can do anything. Mine's you! I think you might even be able to get me thru Med. School. Later, huh?

Lesson for allways:

BENE PUELLA SEMPER ES. ITAQUE UOS ab mī AMABERIS.

No help from Mary.

I know you have lovers.
So to give them all room
I write on the cover.

Dear testin → Tracy Cobb
H

This summer, when I go away, I'll think about you so I hope you'll let me write you now + then and tell you what's on my mind, (you). It would be nice.

Next year's the year. I've been pretty obscure so far but the students of SHS are going to get dust in their eyes I'm a-thinkin'. I'm going to put everything I can into my senior year and do the very best I can. I hope you'll want to do it with me, cause I'd like it that way. Oh well, I guess you'll see later maybe what I mean.

There might be other people who can say things that sound prettier than this to you, but I know there's not another person who wants to convey the feeling the way I want to. I hope you know what I mean by all this. There are so many things I'd like to say but don't have the words. I'm just plain old everyday language which sounds conventional but what I want to mean so much.

I love you
Mike

59 forever but
60 I'll do I guess.

Ah, go eat your lunch
you fool.

I love fools more than any other kind.
P.S. I love you need I say more.
